Q2 2025 | Economic Review

GDP

The U.S. economy contracted 0.5% on an annualized basis in the first quarter of 2025, according to the last of three estimates provided by the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis. First quarter growth was hampered by a surge in imports ahead of anticipated increases in tariffs, while consumer spending growth also slowed.

Jobs

Labor market conditions held steady over the second quarter of 2025, with headline unemployment remaining at relatively low levels (June Headline Unemployment 4.1%). Measures of underemployment improved, while wage growth continued to outpace increases in price levels.

Fed Policy

In the second quarter, the U.S. Federal Reserve left the Federal Funds Rate unchanged (current rate: 4.25-4.50%). FOMC officials have signaled they anticipate lowering rates 1-2 times over the remainder of 2025, dependent upon the forward path of inflation and unemployment.

Inflation

Measures of inflation (June CPI-U: 2.7%) were relatively muted over the second quarter, as oil prices declined on weaker global demand. Nonetheless, forward-looking inflation expectations remain uncertain, as consumers and economists continue to weigh the potential impact of tariffs on overall price levels.

Q2 2025 | Global Financial Markets

Performance Review

- Domestic equity markets sharply recovered over the second quarter of 2025, as investors balanced business and macroeconomic resiliency with continued uncertainty over the administration's trade and fiscal policies.
- Fixed income markets experienced uneven returns over the quarter, as the U.S. treasury yield curve steepened, and credit spreads narrowed.
- International equity markets continued to perform well amidst a declining U.S. dollar and accommodative fiscal and monetary policy measures.
- The real estate sector underperformed as higher longer rates negatively impacted the sector's relative performance.

Global Fixed Income Markets

- The Treasury yield curve steepened over the quarter, leading long-term Treasury bonds to underperform (Bloomberg Short Treasury 1.0%; Bloomberg Long Term Treasury -1.5%).
- Narrowing spreads across the quality spectrum led credit securities to outperform the broader domestic bond market over the past three months (Bloomberg US Credit Index 1.8%; Bloomberg US High Yield Corporate Index 3.5%).
- A declining U.S. dollar and accommodative monetary policy led international fixed income markets to outperform over the second quarter (Bloomberg International Bond Index 7.3%).

Q2 2025 | Equity Market Performance & Economic Data

June 2024 → June 2025

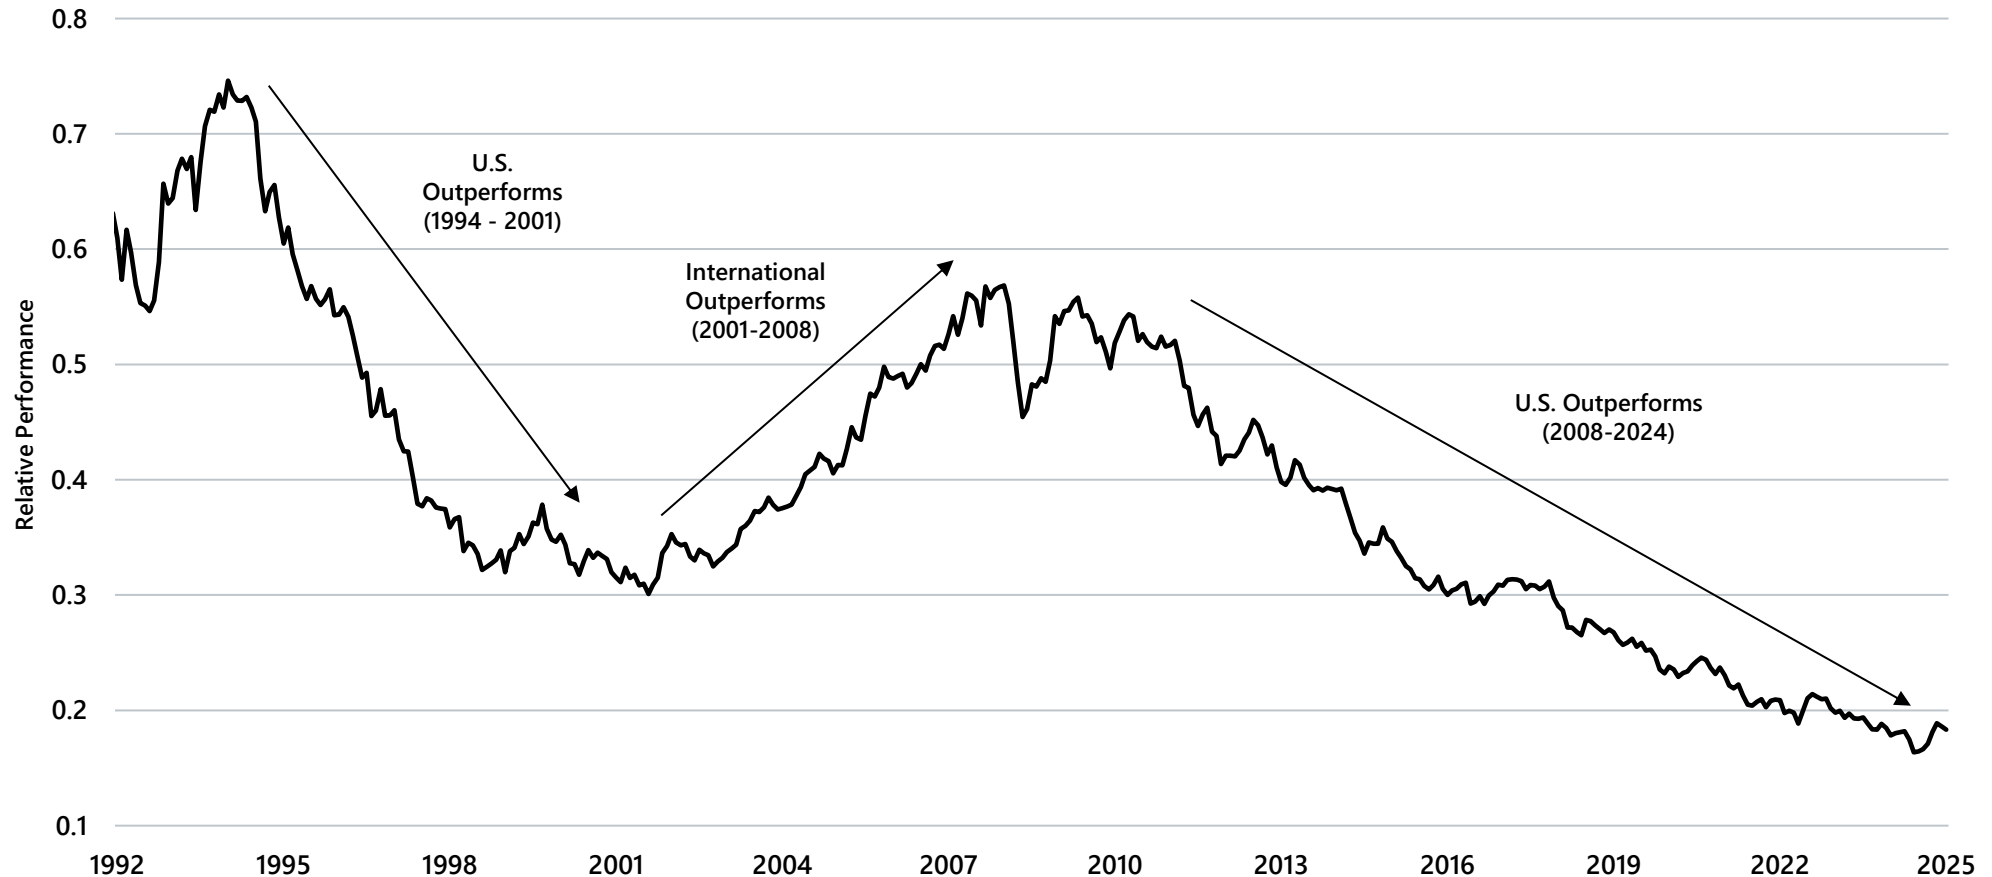

While the U.S. equity market has tended to track the Citi U.S. Economic Surprise Index, a divergence has recently emerged. Despite economic data releases that have surprised to the downside, the S&P 500 has advanced toward all-time highs, highlighting a “bad news is good news” market environment.

Source: Bloomberg. The Citi U.S. Economic Surprise Index measures how U.S. economic data releases compare to consensus forecasts. A positive value indicates data generally exceeds expectations, while a negative value suggests underperformance. CRC4665269 7/2025

Q2 2025 | International v. Domestic Equity Performance

June 1992 → June 2025

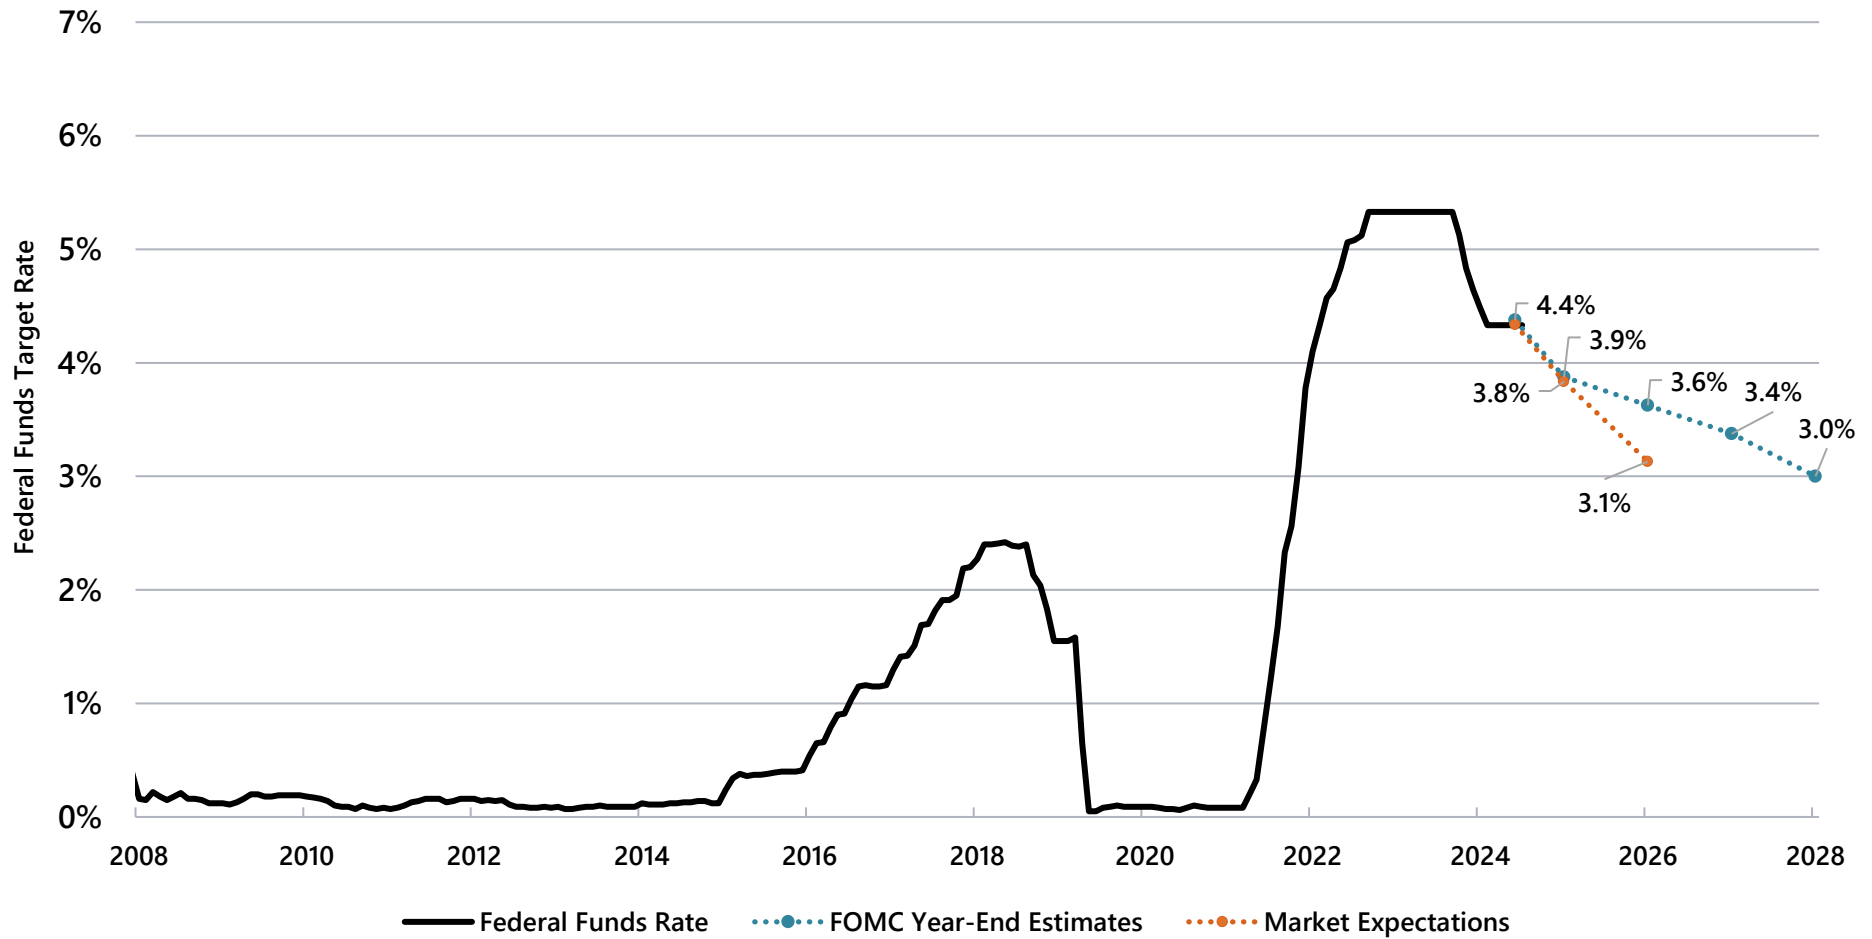

While U.S. equities have enjoyed a prolonged period of meaningful outperformance relative to international markets, there have been periods, such as 2001-2008, where international equities outperformed. Over the first half of 2025, the MSCI EAFE advanced 19.5%, well above the 6.2% gain recorded by the S&P 500, suggesting a potential reversal of domestic outperformance.

Source: Morgan Stanley Wealth Management GIO, FactSet. The ratio of international to domestic equity performance is calculated by dividing the total return of the MSCI EAFE by the total return of the S&P 500. A rising value represents international outperformance, while a declining value represents domestic outperformance. CRC4665269 7/2025

Q2 2025 | Interest Rate Expectations

Figure 12. Historical & Expected Federal Funds Target Rate
2008→ 2028 (Forward-Looking)

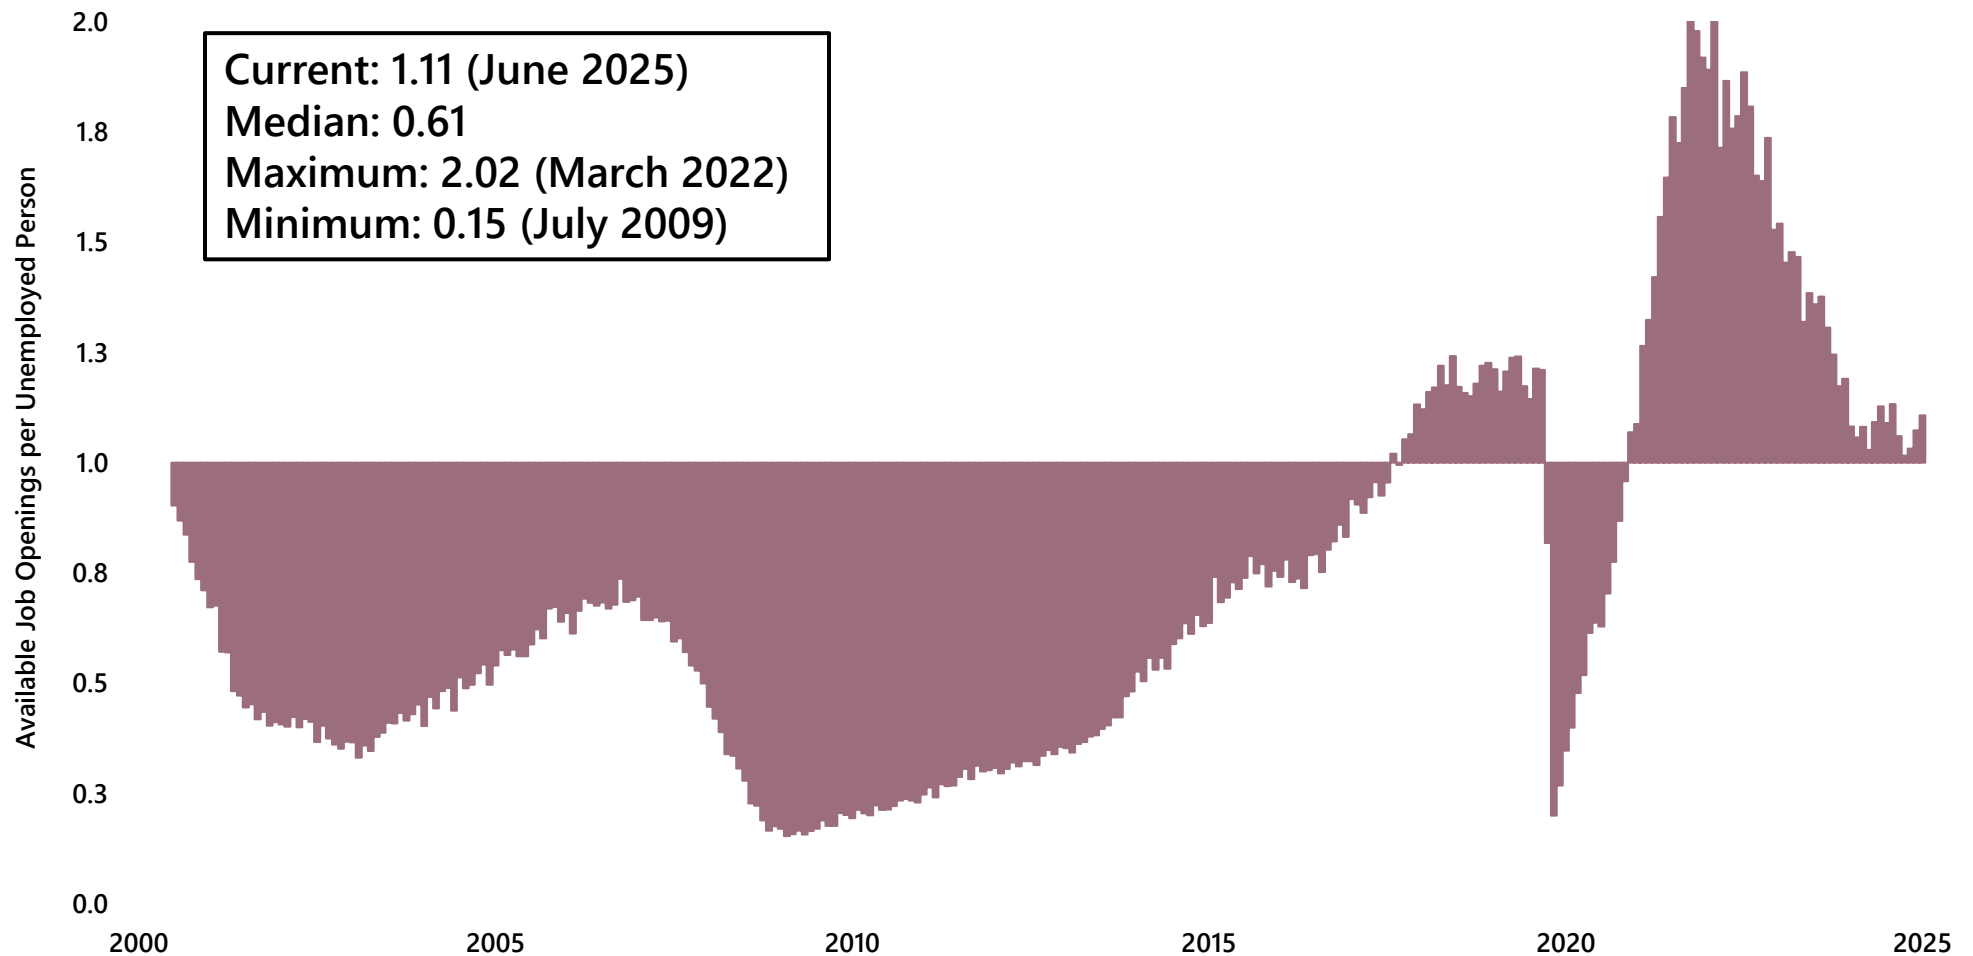

Though both market participants and the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) expect interest rates to decline, there remains a divide regarding the trajectory of that decline, with futures markets anticipating rates to fall more rapidly than FOMC members of the next 12-24 months.

Source: Morgan Stanley Wealth Management GIO, Bloomberg. FOMC refers to the Federal Open Market Committee, a branch of the Federal Reserve System responsible for setting monetary policy primarily through the Federal Funds Rate. CRC4665269 7/2025

Q2 2025 | Labor Market

June 2000 → June 2025

Between 2020-2022, the domestic labor market shifted from one of the loosest since 2000 to the tightest, highlighting the profound disruption of the COVID-19 pandemic and the rapid recovery that followed. While the ratio of job openings to unemployed persons has declined meaningfully from its 2022 high, the labor market remains tight relative to its long-term median.

Objective

Stability of principal is the primary objective of this investment option. The Voya Fixed Account – 457/401 II guarantees minimum rates of interest and may credit interest that exceeds the guaranteed minimum rates. Daily credited interest becomes part of principal and the investment increases through compound interest. All amounts invested by your plan in the Voya Fixed Account – 457/401 II receive the same credited rate. This is known as a portfolio method of interest rate crediting.

Key Features

The Voya Fixed Account – 457/401 II is intended to be a long-term investment for participants seeking stability of principal. The assets supporting it are invested by VRIAC with this goal in mind. Therefore, VRIAC may impose restrictions on transfers and withdrawals involving the Voya Fixed Account – 457/401 II if Competing Investment Options (as defined below) are offered, or if you have a choice between multiple service providers. These restrictions help VRIAC to provide stable credited interest rates which historically have not varied significantly from month to month despite the general market's volatility in new money interest rates.

Full withdrawal requests at any other time would be subject to the provisions of option (a) above.

Interest Rate Structure

The Voya Fixed Account – 457/401 II guarantees principal and a guaranteed minimum interest rate (“GMIR”) for the life of the contract, as well as featuring two declared interest rates: a current rate, determined at least monthly, and a guaranteed minimum floor rate declared for a defined period – currently one calendar year. The guaranteed minimum floor rate may change after a defined period, but it will never be lower than the GMIR that applies for the life of the contract. The current rate, the guaranteed minimum floor rate and the GMIR are expressed as annual effective yields. Taking the effect of compounding into account, the interest credited to your account daily yields the then current credited rate.

VRAC’s determination of credited interest rates reflects a number of factors, which may include mortality and expense risks, interest rate guarantees, the investment income earned on invested assets and the amortization of any capital gains and/or losses realized on the sale of invested assets. Under this option, VRAC assumes the risk of investment gain or loss by guaranteeing the principal amount you allocate to this option and promising minimum interest rates during the accumulation period and also throughout the annuity payout period, if applicable.

The current rate to be credited under a contract may be higher than the guaranteed minimum floor rate and the GMIR and may be changed at any time, except that VRAC will not apply a decrease to the current rate following a rate change initiated solely by us prior to the last day of the three-month period measured from the first day of the month in which such change was effective. The current rate for a plan’s initial investment in the Voya Fixed Account – 457/401 II may be in effect for less than a full three-month period.

Credited Interest Rate

The Voya Fixed Account – 457/401 II will earn interest at a rate no less than 3.10% through December 31, 2021, 3.00% through December 31, 2024, and 3.60% through December 31, 2029.

The Voya Fixed Account – 457/401 II’s GMIR for the life of the contract is 1.00%.

Plain talk about risk

An investment in the trust portfolio could lose money over short or even long periods. You should expect the trust portfolio's share price and total return to fluctuate within a wide range, like the fluctuations of the overall stock market. The trust portfolio's performance could be hurt by:

Stock market risk: The chance that stock prices overall will decline. Stock markets tend to move in cycles, with periods of rising stock prices and periods of falling stock prices. The fund's investments in foreign stocks can be riskier than U.S. stock investments. Foreign stocks tend to be more volatile and less liquid than U.S. stocks. The prices of foreign stocks and the prices of U.S. stocks may move in opposite directions. In addition, the fund's target index may, at times, become focused in stocks of a particular market sector, which would subject the fund to proportionately higher exposure to the risks of that sector.

Country/regional risk: The chance that world events—such as political upheaval, financial troubles, or natural disasters—will adversely affect the value of securities issued by companies in foreign countries or regions. Because the fund may invest a large portion of its assets in securities of companies located in any one country or region, its performance may be hurt disproportionately by the poor performance of its investments in that area. Country/regional risk is especially high in emerging markets.

Currency risk: The chance that the value of a foreign investment, measured in U.S. dollars, will decrease because of unfavorable changes in currency exchange rates.

Investment style risk: The chance that returns from small- and mid-capitalization stocks, to the extent that the fund invests in them, will trail returns from the overall stock market. Historically, these stocks have been more volatile in price than the large-cap stocks that dominate the overall market, and they often perform quite differently.

Emerging markets risk: The chance the stocks of companies located in emerging markets will be substantially more volatile, and substantially less liquid, than the stocks of companies located in more developed foreign markets.

Index-related risks: The trust is subject to risks associated with index investing, which include passive management risk, tracking error risk, and index provider risk. Passive management risk is the chance that the trust's use of an indexing strategy will negatively impact the trust's performance. Because the trust seeks to track the performance of its target index regardless of how that index is performing, the trust's performance may be lower than it would be if the trust were actively managed. Tracking error risk is the chance that the trust's performance will deviate from the performance of its target index. Tracking error risk may be heightened during times of increased market volatility or under other unusual market conditions. Index provider risk is the chance that the trust will be negatively impacted by changes or errors made by the index provider. Any gains, losses, or costs associated with or resulting from an error made by the index provider will generally be borne by the trust and, as a result, the trust's shareholders.

Plain talk about risk

Because the trust invests substantially all of its assets in underlying Vanguard funds, it is subject to underlying fund risk. This means that the trust is exposed to all of the risks associated with the investment strategies and policies of the underlying Vanguard funds, including the risk that the underlying funds will not meet their investment objectives. The trust is subject to several stock and bond market risks, any of which could cause an investor to lose money. However, based on the trust's current allocation between stocks and the less volatile asset class of bonds, the trust's overall level of risk should be higher than those funds that invest mostly in bonds, but lower than those investing mostly in stocks. The trust also is subject to asset allocation risk, which is the chance that the selection of underlying funds and the allocation of fund assets will cause the fund to underperform other funds with a similar investment objective.

However, based on the trust's current allocation between stocks and the less volatile asset class of bonds, the trust's overall level of risk should be higher than those trusts that invest mostly in bonds, but lower than those investing mostly in stocks. As the trust's allocation between underlying funds gradually changes, the trust's overall level of risk also will decline. The trust also is subject to asset allocation risk, which is the chance that the selection of underlying funds and the allocation of fund assets will cause the trust to underperform other trusts with a similar investment objective. Investments in Target Retirement Trusts are subject to the risks of their underlying funds. The year in the trust name refers to the approximate year 2025 when an investor in the trust would retire and leave the workforce. The trust will gradually shift its emphasis from more aggressive investments to more conservative ones based on its target date. An investment in the Target Retirement Trust is not guaranteed at any time, including on or after the target date.

Investment strategy

The trust invests in other Vanguard mutual funds and trusts according to an asset allocation strategy designed for investors planning to retire and leave the workforce in or within a few years of 2030 (the target year). The trust's indirect bond holdings are a diversified mix of short-, intermediate-, and long-term U.S. government, U.S. agency, and investment-grade U.S. corporate bonds; inflation-protected public obligations issued by the U.S. Treasury; mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities; and government, agency, corporate, and securitized investment-grade foreign bonds issued in currencies other than the U.S. dollar (but hedged by Vanguard to minimize foreign currency exposure). The trust's indirect stock holdings are a diversified mix of U.S. and foreign large-, mid-, and small-capitalization stocks.

Plain talk about risk

Because the trust invests substantially all of its assets in underlying Vanguard funds, it is subject to underlying fund risk. This means that the trust is exposed to all of the risks associated with the investment strategies and policies of the underlying Vanguard funds, including the risk that the underlying fund investments will not meet their investment objectives. The trust is subject to several stock and bond market risks, any of which could cause an investor to lose money. However, based on the trust's current allocation between stocks and the less volatile asset class of bonds, the trust's overall level of risk should be higher than those funds that invest mostly in bonds, but lower than those investing mostly in stocks. As the trust's allocation between underlying funds gradually changes, the trust's overall level of risk also will decline. The trust also is subject to asset allocation risk, which is the chance that the selection of underlying funds and the allocation of fund assets will cause the trust to underperform other funds with a similar investment objective. Investments in Target Retirement Trusts are subject to the risks of their underlying funds. The year in the trust name refers to the approximate year 2050 when an investor in the trust would retire and leave the workforce. The trust will gradually shift its emphasis from more aggressive investments to more conservative ones based on its target date. An investment in the Target Retirement Trust is not guaranteed at any time, including on or after the target date.

Investment objective

Vanguard Target Retirement 2055 Trust II seeks to provide capital appreciation and current income consistent with its current asset allocation.

Investment strategy

The trust invests in other Vanguard mutual funds and trusts according to an asset allocation strategy designed for investors planning to retire and leave the workforce in or within a few years of 2055 (the target year). The trust's asset allocation will become more conservative over time, meaning that the percentage of assets allocated to stocks will decrease while the percentage of assets allocated to bonds and other fixed income investments will increase. Within seven years after 2055, the trust's asset allocation should resemble that of the Target Retirement Income Trust II. The underlying holdings are: Vanguard Total Stock Market Index Fund, Vanguard Total Bond Market II Index Fund, Vanguard Institutional Total International Stock Market Index Trust II, Vanguard Total International Bond II Index Fund, and Vanguard Short-Term Inflation-Protected Securities Fund.

The trust's indirect bond holdings are a diversified mix of short-, intermediate-, and long-term U.S. government, U.S. agency, and investment-grade U.S. corporate bonds; inflation-protected public obligations issued by the U.S. Treasury; mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities; and government, agency, corporate, and securitized investment-grade foreign bonds issued in currencies other than the U.S. dollar (but hedged by Vanguard to minimize foreign currency exposure). The trust's indirect stock holdings are a diversified mix of U.S. and foreign large-, mid-, and small-capitalization stocks.

Performance: Net performance results illustrated herein do not reflect a deduction of any investment advisory fees charged by FCG or any investment manager but do include the fund's internal expenses. Net performance results are annualized for time periods greater than one year and include all cash and cash equivalents, realized and unrealized capital gains and losses, and dividends, interest, and income. The investment results depicted herein represent historical performance.

A Fund's internal expenses (also known as the expense ratio) generally cover investment management fees, marketing, and distribution fees (also known as 12b-1 fees) and other operating expenses of the fund. The expense ratios being displayed for mutual funds reflect each fund's "net" expenses as provided by Morningstar as per the fund's prospectus. Such "net" expenses are subject to change and may increase at any time. You can obtain performance data for each Fund by visiting the fund company website. Fund performance information contained in this report does not represent a recommendation by FCG.

Current performance may vary from the figures shown. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results.

Performance data quoted is historical. . The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate such that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Total returns include reinvestment of dividends and capital gains and are net of all Fund fees and expenses.

Performance figures are based on the investment's Net Asset Value (NAV) within a qualified retirement plan. If an individual were to make an investment outside of a qualified plan, they would likely be subject to all, or a portion of, any applicable sales charges. These charges would lower the performance indicated above.

Each investment's performance may, from time to time, have been affected significantly by material market and economic conditions, including interest rates, market trends, and general business and economic cycles, which may or may not be repeated in the future.

Indices are unmanaged. An investor cannot invest directly in an index. They are shown for illustrative purposes only and do not represent the performance of any specific investment. Index returns include the reinvestment of all dividends, but do not reflect the payment of transaction costs, advisory fees or expenses that are associated with an investment. The indices selected by FCG to measure performance are representative of broad asset classes. FCG retains the right to change representative indices at any time. Performance of indices may be more or less volatile than any investment product. The risk of loss in value of a specific investment is not the same as the risk of loss in a broad market index. Therefore, the historical returns of an index will not be the same as the historical returns of a particular investment a client selects. Past performance does not guarantee future results.

Key Comparisons between CITs and Mutual Funds. CITs are tax-qualified investments primarily restricted to the retirement market so investors tend to have a longer-term horizon and the trustee can make investment decisions without tax considerations. Mutual funds are not subject to these investor limits or investment horizons and must distribute substantially all of their taxable net gains and income to investors. CIT expense structures can be customized to investor channels. Mutual funds generally have less fee flexibility. CITs tend to have lower administrative, marketing and distribution costs than mutual funds due to the differences in how they can be sold and to whom. CITs are maintained by a bank as trustee and are subject to federal or state banking regulation and ERISA fiduciary standards. Mutual funds are managed by registered investment advisers and are subject to extensive SEC regulation and public disclosure and reporting requirements. Both CITs and mutual funds are generally priced and traded daily, subject to annual financial audits, and benefit from their pooled structure that aggregates investor funds and can provide greater diversification than individual accounts.

Investment Policy Statement: The "Investment Policy Statement Compliance Report" indicates funds that are on the client's Plan "Watch List", as based on investment monitoring criteria which is provided to FCG by the client. The client should inform its FCG Consultant of any changes to the investment policy for the client's plan.

Key Asset Class Risk Disclosures. Investing involves market risk, including possible loss of principal. Please refer to MSIIA's Form ADV Brochure for more information about the risks associated with certain investment products. The FCG's Form ADV Brochure is available upon request.

All Funds are sold by prospectus, which contain more complete information about a fund, its expenses and material risks related to that fund's investment strategy. Please contact your FCG consultant for a copy of a fund's prospectus.

All investments involve risk and potentially a loss of money. Investments in bonds are subject to interest rate, credit, and inflation risk. Foreign investments involve special risks, including currency fluctuations, taxation differences and political developments. Equity securities of small and mid-sized companies may be more volatile than securities of larger, more established companies. Real estate securities and trusts involve greater risks than other non-diversified investments, including but not limited to: declining property values, varying economic conditions, changes in zoning laws, or losses from casualty. Real estate securities that invest in foreign real estate involve additional risk, including currency fluctuations and political developments. Target Date Funds provide a dynamic asset allocation that adjusts over time based upon a participant's age and distance from retirement. The glidepath structure is based upon an assumed retirement age of 65. The underlying investments are subject to market risk (including falling share prices), interest rate risk, credit risk, inflation risk, and other risks, including any risks assumed by the underlying funds. Diversification does not ensure a profit or protect against a loss. The principal value of any investment is not guaranteed at any time.

Peer Groups: Peer Groups are a collection of similar investment strategies that essentially group investment products that share the same investment approach. Peer Groups are used for comparison purposes to compare and illustrate a clients investment portfolio versus its peer across various quantitative metrics like performance and risk. Peer Group comparison is conceptually another form of benchmark comparison whereby the actual investment can be ranked versus its peer across various quantitative metrics. All Peer Group data are provided by Investment Metrics, LLC. The URL below provides all the definitions and methodology about the various Peer Groups <https://www.invmetrics.com/style-peer-groups>

Peer Group Ranking Methodology: A percentile rank denotes the value of a product in which a certain percent of observations falls within a peer group. The range of percentile rankings is between 1 and 100, where 1 represents a high statistical value and 100 represents a low statistical value. The 30th percentile, for example, is the value in which 30% of the highest observations may be found, the 65th percentile is the value in which 65% of the highest observations may be found, and so on.

Percentile rankings are calculated based on a normalized distribution ranging from 1 to 100 for all products in each peer group, where a ranking of 1 denotes a high statistical value and a ranking of 100 denotes a low statistical value. It is important to note that the same ranking methodology applies to all statistics, implying that a ranking of 1 will always mean highest value across all statistics.

For example, consider a risk/return assessment using standard deviation as a measure of risk. A percentile ranking equal to 1 for return denotes highest return, whereas a percentile ranking of 1 for standard deviation denotes highest risk among peers.

In addition, values may be used to demonstrate quartile rankings. For example, the third quartile is also known as the 75th percentile, and the median is the 50th percentile.

Environmental, Social and Governance (“ESG”) investments in a portfolio may experience performance that is lower or higher than a portfolio not employing such practices. Portfolios with ESG restrictions and strategies as well as ESG investments may not be able to take advantage of the same opportunities or market trends as portfolios where ESG criteria is not applied. There are inconsistent ESG definitions and criteria within the industry, as well as multiple ESG ratings providers that provide ESG ratings of the same subject companies and/or securities that vary among the providers. Certain issuers of investments may have differing and inconsistent views concerning ESG criteria where the ESG claims made in offering documents or other literature may overstate ESG impact. ESG designations are as of the date of this material, and no assurance is provided that the underlying assets have maintained or will maintain and such designation or any stated ESG compliance. As a result, it is difficult to compare ESG investment products or to evaluate an ESG investment product in comparison to one that does not focus on ESG. Investors should also independently consider whether the ESG investment product meets their own ESG objectives or criteria.

There is no assurance that an ESG investing strategy or techniques employed will be successful. Past performance is not a guarantee or a dependable measure of future results.
